DISSENTING PROPOSALS OF ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

We believe that certain principles should have been uniformly taken as the basis for delimitation. One such principle should be that as far as possible an administrative unit should not be disturbed and if at all that unit is not able by itself to form a constituency, only the minimum population should be added to it. And the second such principle should be that the reservation of either the Schedule Caste or Schedule Tribe seat should be on the basis of the highest percentage of the particular community in any constituency.

We find that these principles are not observed in delimitation of Constituencies in the Gujarat State. Though the percentage of Schedule Caste is higher in Surendranagar and Banaskantha Parliamentary Constituencies, Patan has been allotted a Schedule Caste reserved seat. We think that the reservation should be in Surendranagar Constituency which has the highest percentage of Schedule Caste population.

Similarly, while allocating Schedule Caste assembly reserved seat for a district in a State, the percentage of Schedule Caste in the district should be the basis. We find that here also this principle is not adhered to. Though Kutch District with a percentage of Schedule Caste of 0·51, and Surendranagar with a percentage of 0·54 are allotted a reserved Schedule Caste seat each, Rajkot District with a concentration of 0·57 percentage is not allotted any. Moreover such a seat has been allotted to Amreli District with only a Schedule Caste percentage of 0·37. We think that this is not fair. We submit that the reservation of Schedule Caste reserved seat should be in Rajkot District i.e., of Wankaner Assembly Constituency and that the Dhari-Kodinar Assembly Constituency in Amreli District should not be so reserved.

Thirdly we submit that though Cambay Taluka has an administrative unit in Kaira District has the highest percentage of Schedule Caste population, in allocation of a Scheduled Caste reserved seat, it is the Matar Assembly Constituency that gets this reservation. It will be observed that Matar Assembly Constituency gets the highest percentage of Schedule Caste only because of additional population that is put in that constituency from Cambay Taluka. Though the Cambay Constituency itself has been formed with 121,052 persons, Matar has been given 26,292 persons from Cambay Taluka and thus this Constituency has a population of 127,611, thus artificially raising its percentage of Schedule Caste. If the average population per seat in this district is 123,506 and that minimum and maximum required is 111,237 and 135,955 respectively, we submit that the number of persons added to Matar to form Assembly Constituency should have been only sufficient for minimum requirement. If that is done, the Schedule Caste reserved seat will not be artificially shifted to an administrative unit with a lower Schedule Caste percentage. Therefore, we submit that Matar Assembly Constituency should be formed with only minimum requirement and if that is not possible, then as a second alternative, with only average population for a seat in this district and only thereafter the percentage of Schedule Caste should be calculated. The reserved Schedule Caste seat then should be allotted to the Constituency with higher percentage.
